City Gets Okay for $147,000 in Building Projects; New Radio Station Is Included

Twin Falls has been given the "green light" on construction projects totalling $147,000 by the Boise district office of the civilian production administration, including the proposed $75,000 Twin Falls clinic, and the Magic City's new radio broadcasting station—KLIX.

Construction will start this week on the new radio station, said Frank Carman, Salt Lake City, president of KUTA there. The new Twin Falls outlet should be in operation by September or October, he said, tying in with Boise and Salt Lake stations in a net for mountain states affiliates of the new American Broadcasting company.

A. J. Wahl, district manager of the Boise CPA office, stated he has reviewed the following applications, which have been given approval without priority assistance:

Twin Falls clinic, $75,000; doctors' office and laboratories.

Southern Idaho Broadcasting company, $21,000; radio broadcasting station (KLIX).

Chaney Motor company, $18,000; new garage for repairing, servicing and storage of trucks.

Balsch Motor company, $15,000; addition to present building for repair of trucks and cars.

Bunting Tractor company, $9,000; addition to present building for repairing farm machinery.

Lloyd C. Martin, $5,000; expansion project of the East Side market.

Paul E. Wellner, $5,000; manufacture of millwork.

"All other applications," explained Wahl, "have either been denied, rejected or held in abeyance for civilian construction committee action as to essentiality and impact on veterans housing construction."

Under veterans housing program No. 1, dated March 26, all commercial and industrial construction exceeding the dollar value stipulated in the order must have CPA approval before beginning construction, Wahl explained.

The studio transmitter building and tower for KLIX will be erected at a site on Elizabeth boulevard a mile east of Locust street, opposite the Pulzler rest home.

The station will have 250 watts power, Carman said, and will operate on 1340 kilocycles.

Carman is associated with Fentress Kuhn, Boise, in the project, which eventually will connect KUTA, KLIX and a new station to be built in Boise, in one mountain states network. ABC programs will be used via leased telephone lines out of Salt Lake City.

Dr. Joseph W. Marshall, who is associated with Dr. Earl C. Jensen and Dr. Elwood T. Rees in the clinic project, said that if materials are available, work would probably start in 30 days on the building to be at Sixth avenue and Shoshone street.

"If materials are available, the structure may be completed by Noverber or December," with the clinic to commence practice early in 1947.

Balsch said work on his construction job would start "next week or in 10 days" on the used car lot at the south of his present structure.

Martin said the East Side market work would start immediately, probably by today. Wellner said his proposed building shop for planing mill in the 700 block of Second avenue south would be started "whenever the materials are available."

E. V. Vawdrey said that construction on a repair shop for the Bunting Tractor company would begin "right away." He added that some of the materials already are on hand and that work would begin as soon as possible.

The repair shop for handling tractors and heavy farm machinery will be erected as an addition to the warehouse on Kimberly road. Further expansion of the plant is anticipated later, he declared.

One-Horsefly "Engine"

Arrow in photo points to a real, live horsefly. It's the "motor" of one-horsefly-power plane held by its builder, Dick Brickner, 12, of the St. Paul, Minn., Modeleers' club. Plane, weighing 1/68th of an ounce, has wings of plastic film 2/10,000ths of an inch thick. When horsefly, cemented to front of plane, "takes off," the plane flies for several hundred feet.

Controls for Coal Tighten As Miners Refuse Proposals

By The Associated Press

John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers refused to budge an inch today from their original contract demands, forcing even more stringent government controls over the nation's fast-dwindling soft coal supplies.

Meanwhile the nation's strike lines expanded and additional thousands of workers were forced to quit their jobs, mainly because of the crippling work stoppage started 38 days ago by Lewis' 400,000 AFL soft coal miners.

Industry was hit harder.

Ford Motor company suspended "virtually all operations" indefinitely because of the coal strike, impaired rail transportation and parts shortage. The shutdown hits 110,000 workers. Chrysler corporation indicated it may follow suit. The Association of American Railroads reported about 51,000 railroad men had been laid off in its ranks, and another quarter million in industries it serves.

Against such a background, Federal Mediator Paul W. Fuller redoubled efforts to break the negotiations deadlock between Lewis and the mine operators.

Insist on Pay

Fuller met with no success in his first efforts to work out an agreement on the question of $3,000,000 in holiday overtime which the miners insist is due them. However, he kept at it, for this issue is one of the obstacles blocking discussion of major provisions in a new contract for the miners.

On capitol hill congressional tempers grew shorter, and support gathered behind demands that strike control legislation get No. 1 priority unless a prompt end to the coal shutdown is affected.

Oppose "Push Job"

Amid the angry clamor, senate Democratic Leader Barkley, Ky., and Senators Ball R., Minn., and Taft, R., Ohio, spoke out against any headlong action while the lawmakers were worked up over the coal emergency. All three indicated they doubted a legislative "rush job" would have much effect on the current crisis.

Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small meanwhile set up an office of emergency controls "to avoid collapse of utilities services essential to public health and safety during the coal strike.

Brownouts and dimouts of lights were imposed by community after community across the country in an effort to conserve fuel stores.

Other Fuel Scarce

The solid fuels administration reported that even gas and oil, now under heavier demand than ever, are becoming hard to get because of transportation difficulties as railroads slashed services requiring coal-burning locomotives.

As the fast-dwindling supplies of coal forced the shutdown of industry after industry and in many sections curtailed production, the immediate outlook indicated a rise in the number of strike-idle.

More than a million workers were off the job, including the bituminous miners.

New Price Formula Scheduled for Grain

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, May 8 (AP)—With the nation's default in famine relief shipments soaring toward the million-ton mark, the administration was reported today to have decided on a new price formula for getting more grain from livestock feed bins for human food.

Announcement of the new program was expected soon, possibly before nightfall, and officials at the agriculture department said it probably will involve an upward readjustment in the ceiling prices of grain and livestock feeds.

One of the major causes of the current shortage of wheat for food has been heavy use of this grain for livestock feed. Many farmers have reported that they could make more money feeding grain to livestock at present ceiling prices than by selling it as grain.

Agriculture department officials, asking that they not be named, predicted an increase of between 20 and 25 cents a bushel in the ceiling price of corn, 5 to 10 cents a bushel for wheat, and increases of "several cents" for oats, barley and grain sorghums.

A decision to discourage "excessive" feeding of grain to livestock by raising prices was said to have been made after it became apparent that this country may not be able to meet its wheat export goal for the first six months of 1946.

Heretofore optimistic, Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson told a news conference late yesterday that it now looks as though the target may not be reached. This change of mind reflected department reports that exports of wheat for the period Jan. 1 to May 8 fell 881,000 tons—or 33,038,000 bushels—behind the goal for the period.

The wheat export goal for the January-June period is 6,000,000 tons, or 425,000,000 bushels.

The lag in American exports will be reflected, Anderson said, by a "particularly acute" shortage of food in many famine areas during May, especially China and India. Reporting on a meeting of the British-Canadian-American combined food board which met to canvass May cereal requirements, the secretary said no way has been found to meet minimum requirements of hungry areas.

Unarmed U.S. Troops March For V-E Day

FRANKFURT, May 8 (AP)—Four thousand American troops paraded today with two machine guns and a few hundred rifles in this bomb-scarred city in observance of the first anniversary of V-E day, as shabbily-clad German civilians watched in stony silence.

The parade in the headquarters city of the U. S. occupation zone featured only two armored vehicles . . . both light patrol cars. German onlookers exchanged amazed whispers. A few doffed their hats when the American flag passed.

One Fighting Unit

White-scarved, steel-helmeted volunteers of the 508th parachute infantry regiment were the only tactical unit in the procession.

Several hundred soldiers of the headquarters detachment strode weaponless at the heels of a military police battalion and in front of a company of WACS and jeeps loaded with Red Cross girls.

The parade wound along rain-dampened cobble-stoned streets from the Main river to the I. G. Farben building, where Gen. Joseph T. McNarney waited to take the salute.

Except for scattered officers and non-coms, virtually no soldier in the parade had seen real combat action against the wehrmacht.

Old Patches Worn

Patches of the first, seventh and ninth American armies—all deactivated in the past year—were worn by some troops. There were patches, also, of divisions which no longer exist.

The bands sporadically provided martial music, but most of the march took place in silence.

After the parade had passed six American fighter planes flew over the I. G. Farben compound in formation, but there was no other aerial display.

Highway Repair Bids Are Called

BOISE, May 8 (U.P.)—The Idaho bureau of highways today called for bids to be opened May 24 for 10 repair, seal-coating and maintenance projects totaling an estimated $638,500.

Bids for 11 maintenance projects will be opened Friday.

The projects for which bids were called today included:

Reconstruction and sealcoating 5.738 miles and seal coat only on .466 miles between Bliss and Malad river on the Roosevelt highway, and seal coating 3.536 miles from the Elmore-Gooding county line east on highway 30. Engineer's estimate $65,000.

Dworshak Raps Food Subsidies

WASHINGTON, May 8 (AP) — Food subsidies, says Representative Dworshak, R., Ida., are "unsound and illogical."

"The payment of subsidies to producers and processors of food," he said in a statement to the Congressional Record, "created the impression that the price line was being [illegible] ever, price [illegible] defended [illegible] pay subsidies [illegible] prices to the [illegible] add billions of [illegible] tional debt [illegible]

Rayburn Says Strong Lobby Got Fund Cut

WASHINGTON, May 8 (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn rolled up his sleeves today for a finish fight with what he called "power lobbyists" over provisions of the interior department appropriation bill, which recommends a general reduction of almost 50 per cent in department funds.

The man from Texas, who seldom injects himself publicly into legislative rough-and-tumble, told reporters he personally would offer an amendment restoring to the Southwest Power administration some of the money denied it by the house appropriations committee.

Favorite Plan Hit

The committee, in sending to the house floor yesterday a sharply-cut interior appropriation bill, slashed more [illegible]000 from the $23,-[illegible] estimates of the SPA power project operating in Rayburn's home state and other portions of the southwest.

In bitter words, the speaker blamed "utility lobbyists" for the committee's action on the SPA, his favorite project. They are attempting, he claimed, to "kill it off."

House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts said he would "do whatever is necessary to back up the speaker."

Lively Fight Seen

The position of the two leaders presaged a lively fight when the interior appropriation bill comes before the house for amendments Friday. Not in recent years, at least, have they teamed up publicly in opposition to a recommendation of the powerful 45-man appropriations committee.

Debate on the $174,652,570 bill, starting today, was expected to bring to the fore also a fight by western representatives to restore some of the money the committee denied the bureau of reclamation. The reclamation service was allotted $72,-271,475, less than half of its $166,-804,055 budget estimates.

Ex-Prisoner of Japs First War II Vet to File

The first veteran of World war II to file his declaration of candidacy for office in Twin Falls county is Broda R. Rayborn, Rogerson, Republican candidate for sheriff in the June 11 primaries.

Rayborn, a veteran of early warfare in the Philippines and a prisoner of the Japanese for more than three years, filed his declaration of candidacy here Tuesday afternoon.

Another filing was made by C. R Shipman, 460 Second avenue north, a Republican candidate for precinct committeeman in precinct No. 5.

Rayborn is a nephew of E. L. Rayborn, route 1, Twin Falls, and of E. M. Rayborn, Filer.

Rayborn, a staff sergeant, served with company M, 31st infantry division, Philippine division, fought the Japs for five months on Luzon, and was captured at Corregidor, May 6, 1942.

Thereafter he was imprisoned at four camps on Luzon, witnessing Japanese cruelties to his comrades, before being transferred to Japan Sept. 13, 1944. He was liberated Sept. 13, 1945.

Rayborn was one of two survivors of his platoon. He first fought the Japs in January, 1942, during the Abucay Hacienda battle on Luzon. Then the Americans withdrew south to the Orani line on Bataan which position was held until April 1, 1942. The 31st sustained high losses.

Rayborn boarded a small boat early April 9, and arrived on Corregidor that morning. During the Luzon fighting he had gone without sleep for 17 days.

On Corregidor he weighed 135 pounds. After his release, Rayborn was back to his normal 193 pounds. He is six foot one inch.

Bond Issue to Improve Burley Streets Beaten

BURLEY, May 8—Burley taxpayers turned thumbs down on a $70,000 bond issue to improve the city's streets here Tuesday, the final count being 297 to 92 against the proposal.

The election results bore out the contention of opponents of the levy that Burley's streets should be improved on a "pay-as-you-go system," taking one block at a time if necessary.

Burley has no street debt.

Civic Forces Seeking Vote For Anti-Vice

BOISE, May 8 (U.P.)—Three initiative petitions were on file with the secretary of state today proposing repeal of the 1945 slot machine act, giving counties the right of local option and closing all liquor-by-drink clubs, prohibiting liquor advertising and sales promotion.

The petitions were filed by the Idaho Allied Civic Forces and drafted by Harry Kessler, Boise, corresponding secretary and legal counsel for the association.

Campaign Slated

Kessler said a campaign to secure the 20,800 signatures needed for each petition to put the proposed acts on the November general election ballot will begin as soon as the attorney general drafts the short titles and the petitions for the signatures are printed.

Kessler said the proposed initiative forbidding liquor advertising, restricting liquor sales to any one person to a quart in any one day and not more than two quarts a week and prohibiting drinking clubs, is the same as the Idaho sobriety act proposed by initiative in 1940. The act also forbids distillers from retaining agents in Idaho. The 1940 initiative attempt failed.

Asks Liquor Control

The second petition, filed yesterday by the ACF, provides that no liquor shall be sold by state stores or otherwise in any county if qualified voters in the county in the number of 55 per cent of the aggregate vote cast for secretary of state at the last election, sign petitions requesting prohibition of liquor sales.

The third petition would repeal the 1945 act legalizing and licensing operation of slot machines in non-profit social clubs and, in addition, amends the anti-gambling statute to provide that a county officer who fails to enforce the statute not only is guilty of a misdemeanor but is subject to summary removal from office.

Coal Supply Dwindling Here But Still Good for 30 Days

Dwindling coal supplies faced Twin Falls dealers Wednesday as government attempts to settle the nation-crippling coal strike failed. However, most dealers believed that the supplies would be adequate for 30 days providing weather remained good.

Kimberly is entirely out of coal and is drawing off Twin Falls supplies, R. O. Benson, president of the retail coal dealers association, said. He added that four Twin Falls yards are practically out of coal and that supplies of slack, used primarily by industrial users, were running low.

One dealer, however, declared that three out of four yards in the vicinity of his yard had good supplies of slack and said that "there's nothing critical on slack." One carload of slack was delivered to his yard this week from western coal mines.

Another dealer reported that he had 350 tons, but that supplies were dwindling fast. He declared that there's "probably enough to hold over until next month however if it turns cold it won't hold long enough." He said that the supply of stoker coal would be adequate to last a month.

One yard hasn't had any slack coal since the strike was begun April 1 and other yards that had increased their supply to the maximum are facing a depletion of their stocks.

"It looks bad," Benson said and urged all users to cooperate and not hoard coal.

These First

One dealer said that efforts are being made to supply laundries, the hospital, packing houses and other industrial concerns that are heavy coal users, although he said that unless the strike is broken soon housewives will be forced to do their husbands' shirts at home.

All dealers expressed hope for favorable weather and many indicated that Old Sol held the key to

Voters Defeat Candidates of Work Group

By United Press

Ohio Democrats rejected a CIO political action candidate's bid for the U. S. senate today on the basis of yesterday's primary elections which also saw the party unseat a Florida congressman.

The Ohio regulars endorsed Sen. James Huffman, incumbent, to oppose former Gov. John W. Bricker, Republican, in the senatorial race next November.

Highlights of returns from yesterday's party primaries in four states included:

Ohio—Huffman appeared to have won renomination with Marvin Harrison, the CIO political action committee's candidate, running third.

Indiana—Six incumbent congressmen won renomination.

Alabama—With Negroes voting in a Democratic primary for the first time, a run-off election June 4 appeared likely to determine the state's next governor.

Florida—George Smathers of Miami unseated Rep. Pat Cannon, former Miami policeman, in the fourth district. Former Gov. Spessard L. Holland won the Democratic senatorial nomination, tantamount to election, to succeed Sen. Charles O. Andrews who is resigning.

Idaho Battles CVA, Oregon Meeting Told

PORTLAND, Ore., May 8 (U.P.)—The people of Idaho were represented here today as being opposed to the proposed Columbia Valley Authority. G. Nicholas Ifft, managing editor of the Pocatello, Ida., Tribune has told the Northwest Development association here that Idahoans deem it a further encroachment upon state sovereignty.

Speaking to the association convention here last night, Ifft declared Idaho farmers and businessmen were against the CVA "not only because it represents the creation of another federal bureau but because it will take control of the water so essential to the future of Idaho out of the state's hands and place it under the jurisdiction of a three-man board.

Ifft asserted there was no economic need for the CVA because existing federal and state agencies were handling the power and conservation program for the Columbia adequately. He said there was no sub-marginal population in the area, comparable to the population of the Tennessee valley, which was given as a basic reason for the establishment of the TVA.

Russian Continues Boycott of U. N. Council; Evidence Told

NEW YORK, May 8 (U.P.)—The United States holds a "book" of secret documents about alleged Soviet interference in Iran's internal affairs. But it will not offer them as evidence to the United Nations security council, meeting today—without the Soviet delegate present—to decide whether to drop the Iranian case.

The existence of American evidence to support Iran's original charges against Russia was learned from a high authority a few hours before the council reconvened for the first time in nine days.

Ostensibly, the meeting is to hear reports about Russia's promised evacuation of Iran by last Monday. The Russians appear to have left on schedule, but the prospects were that all the council will have when it meets will be:

1. Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala's qualified report. His government has been unable yet to confirm reports that the Russians have marched out of the northern province of Azerbaijan.

2. A continued rebuff by the Soviet Union of the council's request for a report on May 6 that all Russian troops had left Iran.

Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko already has served notice that he will not participate in any further council discussions of Iran. Today's council agenda lists only the Iran question.

After an American-Russian institute banquet late last night, at which he indirectly denounced the Anglo-American countries for trying to impose their will on other countries, Gromyko was asked whether he would attend today's meeting. He replied: "I have some doubts."

Army Driver Accused After Two Injured

A reckless driving complaint has been filed in Jerome county probate court as a result of a three-vehicle highway accident which sent two Shelley motorcyclists to the Twin Falls county general hospital Saturday evening.

John E. Leiser, state highway patrolman, who investigated the crash along with Jim Purdy, Jerome county deputy sheriff, said the complaint was filed against Cpl. Edward J. Black, driver of an army truck.

The cyclists who were injured were Clayton Rose and Sharon Rose, Shelley brother-sister riders. The girl suffered a fractured left wrist and has been released, but her brother remains hospitalized with an extensive laceration.

"When you consider this accident, it is remarkable the injuries were not more serious," said Leiser.

The mishap occurred at the top of Knot hill, a short distance south of the "Eden Y," the junction of state routes 50 and 25. As the cycle headed south towards Twin Falls, two trucks appeared at the top of the hill, effectively blocking the highway.

Rose headed his cycle between the oncoming trucks, which were driven by Cedar Payton, Jerome, and Corporal Black. Black's army vehicle tried to pass Payton's truck.

The Shelley pair was taken to the hospital by passing motorists, Sharon Albertson, Bud Felton and Bob Peterson, Jerome.

Motorcycle Badly Damaged

Black's truck blew out its right rear tire, and the motorcycle was badly damaged.

Passengers in the army truck were Pfcs. Joe Shuckle and Charles E. Brooks, and Pvts. Frederick W. Mullins, W. F. Reaser and Victor Martinez.

Black, formerly stationed at Rupert, has been transferred to Ft. Douglas, Utah, army officers at Rupert said. The army, they said, will attempt to press the reckless driving charge against Black at a courtmartial.

Black, said Leiser, is a resident of Twin Falls county.

160 Prisoner Workers on Job in Beets

One hundred sixty German prisoners of war were in Twin Falls county beet fields Wednesday beginning work on beet thinning, O. J. Bellwood, state extension representative, announced. Approval from the ninth service command was received Tuesday evening for the prisoners to begin working.

By May 15 about 480 prisoners now being housed at the Filer fairgrounds are expected to be helping with beet thinning.

It is doubtful if further requests will be made to the army to obtain prisoners for work before May 15, Bellwood said. It is expected that the 160 prisoners will be able to handle the work load until the farmers contract with the army goes into effect May 15.

BANNOCK CAR HUNTED

Theft of a 1941 DeSoto two-tone sedan, with a gray body and blue top, from Pocatello has been reported to Twin Falls authorities. License number of the machine is 1B12203.

Valley's Only Woman J. P. Passes at 66

BURLEY, May 8—Mrs. Mary C. Fay, 66, fifth district vice-president of the American Legion auxiliary and justice of the peace in Burley since 1933, succumbed to a lingering illness at the Cottage hospital about 8 a.m. today.

Born Dec. 7, 1879 in Ontario, Canada, Mrs. Fay was the daughter of Beverly and Alice Linkletter Pitfield. The family moved to Burley from Shoshone in 1919.

The late justice of the peace married James T. Fay at Boulder, Colo. Her husband preceded her in death 13 years ago. In 1945 she was elected to hold the office of fifth district vice-president of the Legion auxiliary. She served as president of the Burley auxiliary during 1944 and 1945. On Dec. 12, 1933 she was appointed justice of the peace and had been reelected for that office since that time.

She is believed to have been in recent years the only woman justice of the peace in Magic Valley.

Mrs. Fay is survived by a son, Arthur D. Fay, Grafton, N. D., and a niece, Ruth Ormsby, Los Angeles.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Friday at the Burley funeral home by the Rev. Father Francis O'Driscoll. High mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Saturday at the church of the Little Flower.

Following mass the body will be removed to the Elks hall where services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Burial will be in the Burley cemetery under the direction of the Burley funeral home.

The body may be viewed from 2 p.m. Friday until time of services.

SALT LAKE CITY, May 8—Traffic Policeman J. H. Simonsen saw an automobile veer from one side of the street to the other before screeching to a halt a foot from a parked car.

"What's the trouble?" Simonsen asked as he approached.

"I don't know, but here it is," replied the driver as she handed him the steering wheel.

Simonsen suggested a mechanic.

Judge's Order Stays Election On Bickel District Division

Postponement of an election set for May 10 in the Bickel, Hansen and Murtaugh school districts was effected Tuesday by District Judge James W. Porter, who approved a motion to stay the balloting originally scheduled for Friday. The action was taken in the civil suit of James L. Barnes, Hansen rancher, against the Twin Falls county commissioners, in regard to the proposed division of Bickel common school district No. 40, between joint independent district No. 8, Murtaugh, and independent school district No. 7, Hansen.

Barnes, a former county commissioner, seeks to nullify recent acts of the commissioners in having conducted a hearing on the district division move and setting the election date.

The motion to stay the election was made by Attorney John H. Daly. Everett M. Sweeley, county attorney, represented the defendants.

The election is postponed pending decision in the case. No election will be held, despite previous posting of notices of election.

The plaintiff, a resident of No. 40, claimed the petition of electors in his district was "insufficient." He charged that the law had not been complied with because Mrs. Doris Stradley, county superintendent of public instruction, assertedly had not published notices about the petitions. He alleged she had not given to the board her written recommendation concerning the division proposal. He asked costs.

His attorneys are Parry, Keenan, Robertson and Daly.

the coal supply. However, industrial users need their heavy coal supplies regardless of weather.

One dealer urged the cooperation of residents in keeping their homes "just above a chill to conserve coal" and another dealer urged residents to place orders for future delivery now so that dealers will know how much coal will be needed.

Ration Imposed

Household users are now being limited to deliveries of one ton and they are restricted from reordering coal unless they have less than a five-day supply. Laundries are allowed a 10-day supply because of their large volume of consumption.

"We are turning down several consumers who want to buy coal," one dealer said. "We're trying to save the coal for industrial users."

One dealer declared that the coal strike now will cause a crisis in transportation next fall and that coal dealers will be forced to put on extra trucks to replenish stocks that are being depleted now.

Ickes Placed Lady in Good Alaskan Post

WASHINGTON, May 8 (U.P.) — A house appropriations subcommittee today posed the question as to just what a "charming little newspaper lady" did to earn her $8,000 a year salary as a special assistant on the Alaska railroad by appointment of former Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes.

As far as the record goes, Dr. Ruth Gruber wrote a few articles about Alaska, possibly for further remuneration by magazine publishers, rode on the railroad a few times, possibly divulged some secret information in a report, brought some refugees over from Europe.

Decoration Asked

Chairman Jed Johnson, D., Okla., of the subcommittee said ". . . the secretary of interior (Ickes) actually had the gall to ask President Truman to give the lady a presidential decoration for bringing those refugees to America."

The appropriations hearing record showed that Johnson sought without success to find out just how much work Dr. Gruber did from the time she was appointed to the job in 1941 until she recently was dropped from the payroll of the department.

Edwin G. Arnold, director, government in the territories, and Col. John P. Johnson, general manager, Alaska railroad, both new in their jobs, were unable to give the subcommittee any information concerning Dr. Gruber's work.

Listed Work

But Col. O. F. Ohlson, former general manager of the railroad, gave the committee the following bits of information:

1. She wrote several articles that were published in various periodicals and newspapers concerning her Alaska observations.
2. Her particular function was to investigate the possibilities of Alaska and disseminate the information to the public and report to Ickes.
3. She made several trips over the railroad's lines.
4. She never operated an engine, nor acted as conductor, brakeman, superintendent, and other capacities.
5. In addition to her salary, she drew $7 per diem.

Merchants Condemn OPA for Black Markets; Favor Ending

The Twin Falls Merchants' bureau Tuesday went on record as opposing the continuation of OPA regulations and members sharply criticized the OPA as "fostering the continuation of the black market."

Merchants were urged to write congressmen and senators protesting the continuation of OPA regulations. Chairman Verle Moser asserted that controls over sugar are the only controls that should be retained, and this by rationing procedure controlled by the department of agriculture.

He rapped at the inefficiency of OPA administrators and said that "they are a powerful lobby fighting for the retention of their jobs."

Other merchants declared that the OPA as being administered now was useless, but favored the retaining of some controls over prices, however gradually abolish price controls.

The retailers asserted that "we do not have a free economy in the United States today" and expressed the belief that a return to normal peacetime conditions could best be obtained by abolition of the OPA.

Moser declared that government's interference in the flour industry had threatened the entire country with bread shortages and destruction of flour mills and bakeries. He said that the "butter shortage is an unnecessary crime" and rapped the OPA for fostering the continued meat crisis.

Good Trees and Good Taverns

About the finest stand of timber in our county is on Asa Fullmore's farm. Asa says it's due to "regulation"—checking on trees that don't come up to standard, and trimming them off to give the other trees a chance for healthy livelihood.

He was explaining it to us in Andy Botkin's Garden Tavern, and Andy nodded approvingly.

"The same goes for any industry," says Andy. "Like the brewers who give us tavern keepers beer to sell. If they find the place isn't up to standard—clean and courteous and wholesome—they start giving warning. Then, if the warning isn't heeded, they start trimming!"

From where I sit, self-regulation within the brewing industry has done as much to give us pleasant, wholesome places to enjoy a moderate glass of beer, as Asa Fullmore's forestry has done to keep his white pines tall and healthy. It's nature's own protection—and the best there is!

THE FORGOTTEN MAN

Approximately a year has passed since Adolf Hitler disappeared from the world's view. He died in the ruins of Berlin, his associates said. Probably it is so. Thus the civilization which he almost destroyed was cheated of its vengeance. Yet the end which overtook him is perhaps more just and fitting than a trial before humanity and death upon the gallows would have been.

For Adolf Hitler, the man, was a nincompoop, an insignificant creature without mental distinction or physical grandeur. As a political hypnotist, as the incarnation of a national depravity, he was an earth-shaking tyrant who scourged the world with a pack of bloodthirsty hellions at his heels. But as a man, he was nothing.

Hitler's sense of the theatrical would have been offended by his death. It was an anti-climax devoid of any dramatic impact. He, the destroyer, was swallowed up and forgotten in the destruction that he created. The dissolution of his country (which he willed) and the triumph of his enemies (which he could not prevent) completely overshadowed his personal demise.

Perhaps they still speak of Adolf Hitler in Germany. His name keeps cropping up at the Nuernberg trials, where his posthumous role is that of scapegoat for his captive henchmen. But elsewhere Adolph Hitler, the man, is all but forgotten.

The name which millions of his victims cursed is seldom spoken. The death for which millions prayed was reported, disbelieved, then gradually accepted. With hardly more than a sigh of relief, the troubled world moved on.

But that troubled world cannot forget Adolf Hitler's legacy. It is like the lingering complications of an acute illness. The complications remain to plague and cripple long after the attack that caused them has passed from conscious memory.

So men today are trying to piece together the broken fragments of a world which Hitler bequeathed. They are largely conscious of the task at hand, of suffering and misery unprecedented in history, of the difficulty of building peace even with the ghastly souvenirs of war all about them.

And that is Adolf Hitler's triumph. His ghost still walks the earth. It surveys the ruin which, if he could not have world rule, he desired and decreed.

Perhaps we should remember more vividly the Adolf Hitler of the plastered forelock, the bulging eyes, the Chaplin mustache, the narrow shoulders, and the chubby hips. For if the people of the world and their statesmen do not now create an international atmosphere of peace and contentment and trust, another Adolf Hitler can come forward as the spark which will touch off the last great war.

REPORT ON PALESTINE

The report containing recommendations on Palestine by the Anglo-American inquiry committee is not without its good points, but it does not settle anything.

The admission of 100,000 displaced European Jews will not solve the problem of the million or more Jewish survivors of nazi oppression still in Europe. Nor does it suggest an ultimate decision as to who shall govern Palestine. Rather, it sidesteps the question by saying that since Palestine is holy land, it cannot be claimed by any race or religion as its very own.

Zionists have expressed displeasure with the recommendations, and the Arabs have threatened war if attempts are made to carry them out. Apparently, then, a forcible solution is going to be required, and this might logically be a job for the United Nations.

The present "solution" is certainly a threat to peace, since war has already been threatened. And the middle east being the trouble spot that it is today, a war in Palestine could conceivably spread and involve several countries.

The problem of Palestine has long been a thorny one. Efforts to solve it—of which the present is only one of many—have been fruitless. It will not be an easy job for anyone, but the UN looks like the logical place to start a new attempt.

WRONG APPROACH

A Swiss inventor has gone home after vainly trying to interest American manufacturers in his "smellevision," a device that would add approximate odors to sound and picture in movies and television.

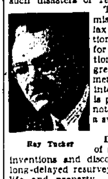
Probably he wasn't here long enough to realize that what this country really needs is something to take the odor out of a great many class B films.

BEE IN HIS BONNET?

Brazil's new President Dutra is reported to be lining up a campaign on gambling in his country. We'll bet this hooks up in some way with his inauguration visit from that veteran campaigner against the tinhorns, the former Mayor LaGuardia of New York.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

SAFETY—The recent railroad wreck at Naplerville, Ill., which killed 45 people and injured more than 100, has prompted a congressional demand for nationwide adoption of safety devices that will prevent such disasters or reduce them to a minimum.



Ray Tucker

The interstate commerce commission, a stuffy body which was lax in enforcing protective regulations even before the war's demand for materials blocked their installation, has been warned to insist on greater safety measures by key members of the house and senate interstate commerce committee. It is probable that the next session, if not the current one, will authorize a sweeping investigation.

DANGER—The new postwar era of speed, born partially of 1939-1945 inventions and discoveries, appears to necessitate a long-delayed resurvey of a question affecting human life and property. Railroad spokesmen themselves concede the need for improvement.

In order to meet increased competition from the airplane, trucks and water transportation, the railroads have built lighter passenger and freight cars, straightened curves, added more trains to their schedules and stepped up their speeds. The second train in the Burlington wreck was making 85 miles an hour on the same track with only a three-minute headway for the telescoped Advance Flier.

But there has been no commensurate move, according to congressional critics, to erect safeguards against the steadily increasing danger to the lives of the traveling public.

RESPONSIBLE.— The interstate commerce commission rather than the lines themselves is held chiefly responsible by members of congress for the failure of the roads to install almost foolproof protective devices. The late President Roosevelt frequently expressed irritation with this body for its laxity, and planned to shake it up several times. The war delayed his proposed reorganization.

Only 8,000 of the nation's 228,000 miles of track, for instance, are equipped with automatic train control, which applies the brakes without human intervention whenever a speeding locomotive enters a block occupied by another train or obstacle.

Yet this is not a new invention. It was adopted by the Boston elevated as early as 1899, when the late Justice Louis D. Brandeis was nursing that line out of receivership.

• • •

INEVITABLE—Congress ordered the ICC to investigate the need for installation of this system on the nations' transportation structure as far back as 1906, under pressure from Theodore Roosevelt. After 16 years of study, the slow-moving ICC "recommended" use of the automatic control in 1922 with this warning:

"The conclusion is inevitable that disastrous collisions will continue to occur unless and until automatic train control devices are installed to protect against human failure."

• • •

OBJECTION—They have. Thousands have been killed or maimed since the issuance of that grave injunction. But the railroads have not followed this advice, and the ICC has not forced them to comply, although it has full authority to do so under section 26 of the basic transportation law.

The lines' objection has been that this reform would cost money. The late Joseph B. Eastman, extremely able head of the ICC, frequently pointed out that wrecks also tap the treasuries though destruction of life and property, liability payments and the loss of good will.

With their heavy earnings of the war years, when they did a bang-up job, it is believed that the carriers can afford to give greater protection through use of the automatic device and a system of radio communications.

If they don't, they will have to explain why to congress, not to the ICC.

THREAT—No development in years has caused such genuine congressional alarm over American communists' purpose and audacity as evidence of their complete control over the newly organized CIO union of federal, state and city workers. Even members known for their tolerance of and sympathy with the Soviet Union regard the Atlantic City movement as a direct threat to organized government.

They have heard that the convention was virtually inspired and managed by representatives of The Daily Worker, an avowed communist publication. When Emil Rieve, conservative head of the textile Workers, delivered an opening speech praising the Truman-Byrnes foreign policies, the newspaper's reporter forced the convention to adopt its foreign policy resolution one day in advance of the schedule. He insisted on immediate action as a reply to Mr. Rieve, according to reliable observers.

• • •

EYE OPENER—The resolution itself was an eye opener. It charged that demobilization of Anglo-American troops throughout the world was deliberately delayed to further "imperialist ambitions" of the western powers to "isolate Russia." It demanded immediate withdrawal from such "friendly countries" as China, France, Greece, India, Belgium, Iceland, Indonesia and the Philippines.

But when an amendment was offered that proposed evacuation of Russian forces from Poland, Czechoslovakia, Estonia and the Balkan states, it was howled down almost unanimously. In the opinion of the delegates, every nation was out of step in the international parade except Russia.

These events explain why the MCs are recalling FDR's warning that federal employes cannot strike and Calvin Coolidge's assertion that "There is no right to strike against the government at any time or any place," or words to that effect.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

THE OLD MEANIES

Our senior senator's output of words grows and grows, covering many subjects, but he usually talks without thinking, opening his mouth and letting the language flow, sometimes with rather ridiculous results. An example is his speech the other night before what the press referred to as the "New Council of American Business" which seems to have been organized to fight for continuance of government controls.

Senator Taylor is quoted as saying of the members of the National Association of Manufacturers who are fighting OPA:

"They opposed the horrors of public education, public health and sanitation. They opposed the bathtub and the income tax. They have fought against minimum wages and a national health act."

The Free Press holds no brief for the National Association of Manufacturers, who often take a reactionary view of things. They probably like the income tax no better than Glen himself did when he found out how much it was going to be. He promptly demanded a big salary increase to offset it. And we imagine they like their profits and enjoy increasing wages as little as anyone else who pays them.

But why not give the devil his due? By the time Glen was born these birds had made America the most prosperous country in the world, paying wages no other country ever had, and they've continued to ever since. Rather than opposing the bathtub they manufactured 'em in such quantities and at such prices that America probably has more than all the rest of the world combined, and probably a hundred times as many as the workers' paradise in Russia.

The same is true of refrigerators, automobiles and a thousand other manufactured articles produced here on such a mass scale as to make America seem a fairy land to other countries. And American wages have continued to lead the world right along, not because of arm-waving orators but because of American capacity to produce enough to pay them. This is due not only to the natural ability of the people but to the efficiency of these same manufacturers and the inventors, scientists and other experts they employ, likewise at wages no other country can match.

To chaps like Glen prosperity is a matter of electing people, of borrowing money, of subsidizing, of passing bills. But these same manufacturers and their organizations have done vastly more to make the American standard of living the envy of the world than all our politicians combined.—Nampa Free Press.

Dear Pot Shots:

Agree with "Idaho Traveler" that Idaho roads are far worse than Wyoming or Nevada but rather than cut the advertising why not elect men capable of spending the road money for roads, not politicians? Our county roads are better than most states have. Our state roads are simply a mess.

We have a fine state, why not get something done?

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

BOB HOPE

I've been going to a dancing school to brush up on my terpsichorean lumbago. It's not that I can't dance ...I just got tired of waiting for the Charleston to come back.

Bob Hope

I wanted to learn the rhumba the South American way. I can rhumba now, but I learned it trying to walk cattycorner across Hollywood and Vine. I suppose everybody knows what the rhumba is, but since I've got a joke about it, I'll assume they don't. The rhumba is when you get the hiccups from the waist down.

I love those Latin dances, though. You bend the girl back until you hear something snap . . . then you sneak into the men's room and fix your garter.

I tried taking dancing by correspondence, but I gave up the first school. I got tired of sending my legs in every week. Then I took lessons from another school but I still didn't learn anything. It wasn't the fault of the school, though. . . . my mailman always insisted on leading.

But these dancing schools are wonderful. The instructresses are so beautiful they make a fracture a pleasure. The first thing my teacher taught me was the position of my arms. That was a lot of fun until the third night. The principal came over and made us turn the phonograph on. Then, when we actually started dancing, it turned out that my teacher wasn't so good. She stepped on my feet so much I finally had to put my shoes on.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

WASHINGTON—Once again this is the season for tourists in Washington. For the first time since the war they are back in force. Many of them are veterans with their young wives, reunited after the long trial of the war.

Westbrook Pegler

They see the shining city in its spring splendor. Around the fountain, on the south lawn of the White House, tulips are in bloom. The ancient queen of India tree nearby has put out its purple blossoms.

The visitors see the marble monument to Lincoln; Lee's house, across the river in Arlington; the pure and beautiful obelisk to the memory of Washington. They see the memorials of a great and powerful democracy and the halls that house its current government.

What they do not see is the shame that is concealed behind the marble front. A careful survey has just confirmed what many Washingtonians already knew—that the capital has the worst hospitals in the United States. The school system is one of the most inadequate and overburdened in the country.

The farcical escape of prisoner after prisoner has made the District of Columbia jails a joke throughout the country. So it goes in one department after another. Almost in the shadow of the capitol are slums as bad as any in the entire country.

The report on the capital's hospitals should shock not only the city but the nation. They long have been bad. Standards of care had deteriorated before the war brought a labor shortage which made the situation much worse. Even in some hospitals in which private patients paid the highest fees, the number of accidents should have been a warning.

During the war an interesting thing happened. Women from secure and comfortable homes became volunteer nurse's aides. They went into the city's free hospitals and charity wards.

What they found was so shocking they could hardly believe it existed in a so-called civilized community. They found filth and negligence that hardly can be described. It was like something out of a much earlier century. This was the way the other half died—in torment and neglect such as would not be accorded a valuable animal.

One of the nurse's aides was Mrs. Millard Tydings, wife of the senator from Maryland. She got her husband interested in doing something about it. Tydings put in a bill calling for a medical center for Washington, with beds for 1,500 patients at a cost that has been estimated at $19,000,000. Thus far the medical center bill has made slow progress.

So long as visitors and complacent Washingtonians see the marble facade, nothing is likely to be done. But perhaps the shame will not stay hidden forever. And it is a fearful commentary that in the capital of our country the surface of decency should be so thin.

As the report condemning the city's hospitals made clear: One of the chief reasons for this condition is the fact that there is no civic responsibility. Washington is the perfect illustration of irresponsibility.

• • •

Apparently it worked well in the days when the capital was a sleepy southern town that came to life during the months congress was in session. But it does not work today when Washington has become a city of more than a million population.

The District of Columbia is governed, after a fashion, by three commissioners appointed by the President and subject to confirmation by the senate. If the commissioners were angels sent down from heaven they would probably have their troubles. They are not angels. They have no real franchise to govern a community of a million persons.

A story, which may or may not be true, is told of one of the current commissioners at the time he was offered his appointment by President Roosevelt. He hesitated, saying he was not sure that at his age he could give enough to the job.

"But surely," said the President, smiling his most charming smile, "You can do as much work as George Allen does."

That was when Allen, since made head of the reconstruction finance corporation, was enjoying life as a district commissioner. How long the capital of a great democracy can stand up under that kind of government is a question.

Brimhall said he was "very pleased" with the showing of Wendell music students at the district festival in Twin Falls. Wendell was represented by 70 students who received high ratings in all three divisions.

Style Show

A style show was presented to the Twin Falls junior high school girls by the homemaking classes of Mrs. Hilda Burgess at an assembly. The clothing modeled was made by the girls.

The girls dramatized four scenes appropriate to their costumes. Pajamas, pedal pushers, divided skirts, short blouses, midriffs and beach coats were featured in the first scene which was a sleep-out.

A hamburger stand in the second scene gave the girls a chance to display fluffy aprons, slacks, skirts, shorts and blouses. Joyce Swartley described the costumes worn in the third scene which was in the form of a fashion parade.

Breezy shorts, cool summer frocks, school prints, date dresses, jumpers, skirt and blouses and a jacket were modeled in this scene.

The last scene stressed the need for wise and careful planning of clothing including the pattern and color and kind of material.

Early Rush of Crowds to Pioneer League Parks Pleases Magnates

Following in the wake of the announcement by President Maury Doerr that Business Manager Mike Carpenter of the Pocatello Cardinals had presented the Cowboys with a check for "more than $1,500" as their share of the Pocatello series, a new high in receipts there, there comes other reports of record-breaking attendance that are leading the Pioneer league magnates to predict the greatest season, financially, in the history of the circuit.

* * * *

Eddie Leishman, manager of the Idaho Falls Russets, asserted in Ogden that "we received the largest check in league history for three games" after the Russets' opening Pioneer league series with the Salt Lake City Bees at the Utah capital.

Leishman, interviewed by Sports Editor Al Warden of the Standard-Examiner, declined to disclose the amount of the check. Warden estimated this to be between $2,500 and $3,000.

The opening game at Salt Lake City drew more than 6,000 with about 5,400 on the two following nights.

"The Pioneer league will shatter all league records during 1946," Leishman predicted. "I look for Salt Lake City to attract between 225,000 and 250,000 paying customers. Other clubs of the league also will set new records."

* * * *

PIONEER NOTES

A 21-year-old Culver City, Calif., pitcher—Dannie Hile—has reported to the Pocatello Cardinal. He stands six feet tall, weighs 190 lbs., throws left and bats right. He formerly played with Hollywood and while in the service won 19 and lost 2 games for the Columbus, Miss., army air field. Hile came from Houston of the Texas league.

Pitcher Hunk Anderson of the Seattle Rainiers has been optioned to the Vancouver, B. C., Capilanos of the Western International. Anderson formerly played with the Twin Falls Cowboys.

Jack Halliwell, president of the league, announced that one of his umpires, Les Burns, now working in the Salt Lake City series, will be sidelined indefinitely. Burns informed Halliwell that he must undergo an operation immediately. He is trying to secure the services of William Hiroms, Kansas.

ARNOLD TO HURL HOME OPENER

Bolyard Bringing His Cowboys Back in Lead

Manager Earl Bolyard brings his Twin Falls Cowboys back to Jaycee park tonight for the home opener of the Pioneer league season to be acclaimed by a crowd that all who have their finger on the Magic Valley baseball pulse say will break all records. And he will bring them back as the Pioneer league's leading team.

In Salt Lake City, where the Cowboys dropped their first game in their last five starts, 12 to 8, to the Bees, Manager Earl Bolyard last night announced that Jim Arnold, the pitching sensation of the training camp season, would seek his second victory over the Pocatello Cardinals, the Cowboy's opponents.

After opening day cermonies, which will include a march to the flagpole, the throwing out of the first ball by Mayor Bert Sweet and band music, the Cowboys will compete for 101 prizes offered by the city's merchants. Sportsman Jim Henry of the J. H. Henry Produce company, Kimberly, was the last to enter the list of donors—$5 for a homer over the Chrysler sign.

Joe Stacey will hurl for Pocatello.

Trailing five runs after three and one-half innings, the Bees came from behind to nip the Cowboys last night.

After the Bees scored three runs in the first inning, the visitors came back with a mighty five-run barrage in the third to add to a single counter in the second.

Seven runs in the bottom of the fourth iced the contest for the Bees.

Jack Biller was a top hitter for the Cowboys with three hits in five appearances. He scored twice. George Leyrer, who scored once, went two for three.

The Bees will start a four-game series at Idaho Falls tonight. The Ogden Reds move to Boise for the same number of appearance.

Hagerman Gains Third 1945-46 District Title

JEROME, May 8—Coach Jack Martin's Hagerman Pirates gained their third class B South Central Idaho Athletic association championship of the 1945-46 school year here Tuesday. Defeating Paul, 9-6, the Pirates added the baseball crown to the football title gained last fall and the basketball championship annexed last spring.

Trailing 5-4, going into the sixth inning, Dan Leach, six-two, 200-pound son of Fred Leech, the former major leaguer, hit a home run to win the game. One run by Paul and two by Hagerman in the sixth failed to enter into the victory picture.

Thieves' Most Popular Spot Being Closed

ABERDEEN, Md., May 8 (AP)—William H. Holmes, whose filling station is far too popular with thieves for his peace of mind, was about ready today to close up the place which has been tapped 28 times to the tune of $4,000.

A special meeting of the Harford county commissioners was called to consider the problem of protecting Holmes' station two miles south of here on U. S. route 40, unmolested before Pearl Harbor but the scene of 38 burglaries and two robberies since.

Last One Monday

The latest robbery at his lonely station occurred Monday night as two men held up the attendant, knocked him out and stole between $80 and $100 in cash, a tankful of gasoline and a battery.

"Monday night's affair just about convinced me I am on the losing side," Holmes said. "If the county commissioners or the state police can't give me all-night protection, I'll close up."

The war started Holmes' troubles. Gas rationing forced him to close at night. The east coast dimout prohibited even a night light in the station. The place was burglarized 26 times during that period, the thieves making off with such scarce items as radios and hard-to-get automobile accessories.

Insurance Denied

Holmes said he hasn't been able to get "a penny's worth of insurance since the first theft and thieves tore the pay telephone off the wall so much to get the nickels, that I couldn't get a phone. I got a private line last week, however.

"It's getting so bad that the state police just say 'you again?' when I call them up. I can't get attendants to stay on the job and every time I sit down there with a rifle, nothing happens.

"Don't think I'm happy about the championship in robbed filling stations. This thing just started and never stopped."

Final Rites Held For Jerome Girl

JEROME, May 8—Funeral services were conducted for Alice La Raine Clarkson at the first ward LDS church.

Opening song was sung by Myra Barlow and Adelia Hellewell, and the invocation was given by Robert Hellewell. First speaker was Vern Tomlinson, and a solo was sung by Elsie Sonnickson.

Second speaker was John F. Dixson. A duet was sung by Myra Barlow and Adelia Hellewell. Third speaker was George W. Fowler, president of the Salt Lake City Granit stakes, followed by a trio, Ruth, Lea and Luan Butter. Benediction was pronounced by Parley Gines.

Pallbearers were Rulon Andrus, Bobby Andrus, Lynn Giles, Arlen Crouch, Lionel Tilby and Brian Tilby. The 22 flower girls were classmates of the girl. Burial was in the Jerome cemetery under the direction of the Wiley funeral parlor.

Hailey Man Will Go Into Logging

HAILEY, May 8—Marion (Red) Gibbons is leaving the employ of the Harris Furniture company and will leave shortly for Mountain Home, where he will enter the logging business.

He has purchased two new trucks with dual drive and Fruehauf and tandem trailers. Gibbons was doing this type of work before entering the service, but since receiving his discharge has acted as embalmer at the Harris funeral parlors.

Who Is He?

"MEN ARE BUT BOYS OF A LARGER GROWTH"

By CHARLES C. MERRILL

MERRILL

From earliest memory this boy has been intrigued by the latent power in electricity. Born in Omaha, Neb., in 1888 at about the time that electricity began to displace horses as motive power for streetcars and just after the incandescent lamp had dazzled the world with its light, this boy liked to hunt and fish — when he could keep his mind on his sport.

The unfolding story of electric power gripped him. He confesses that he missed many a shot, failed to set the hook in many a blue channel catfish because of his absorption in some electrical intricacy. Thomas A. Edison was the hero of his boyhood.

This boy had another hero. He recalls sitting on a railing at Blair, Neb., impatient at the roaring chorus of "Hurrah for Teddy" which kept him from hearing many of the forceful words of Theodore Roosevelt the rough rider, in his campaign speech there.

He remembers the enthusiasm of that spectacular campaign, the photographs and posters, the reams of campaign literature and the yards of bunting and the flags so lavishly displayed. He came to Idaho with his parents in 1903.

He married in Boise and has been at his chosen job in this state ever since. He has lived at Emmett and Nampa before coming to Magic Valley.

Chandler Directs Feldhusen Ranch

HAILEY, May 8—Thomas Chandler will operate the J. S. Feldhusen Eagle Creek ranch this year.

Feldhusen and Chandler came through recently en route to the ranch above Ketchum. He and Mrs. Feldhusen have recently returned from a trip to Columbia, Mo., where they visited their daughter Jean, who is attending Stevens college there. They also visited friends in Illinois.

Feldhusen plans on making as many improvements as the shortage of necessary equipment will allow.

MOVE TO RANCH

FAIRFIELD, May 8—Mrs. John Skyles is moving into the Ellsworth Humphrey home and the Humphreys are moving to their ranch for the summer.

VOLCO ONLY BLOCK USING PUMICE AGGREGATE. APPROVED BY THE UNDERWRITERS LABORATORIES

Another Scoop for an Idaho Product—Made in Magic Valley by Magic Valley Workmen.

According to information from the Underwriters' Laboratories the CINDER PRODUCTS CO's "VOLCO" Block is the first and only light weight concrete block using Pumice Rock as aggregate, to be approved, listed and eligible to Certification Service.

A Partial View of the Cinder Products Co's. Plant—Located on West Main Street, Jerome, Idaho

Additional curing rooms, storage lot, warehouse and railroad tracks are not visible from this view. The plant property covers a full city block 385'x275'. The plant is operating on a three shift basis, 24 hours a day, producing at the rate of over 300,000 blocks a month. April incoming rail shipments included: 4 cars coal; 29 cars CEMENT, 31,400 bags; 81 cars, 5,265 cubic yds. PUMICE.

Outgoing shipments: 34 cars block and brick; 371 truck loads. Company April payroll over $24,000, employing 105 workmen, plus 14 regular truckers. Volume the first quarter of 1946 in Block Sales, 11 times greater than 1945.

Total dollar volume of business, 17 times greater than 1945. One of the fastest growing industries of Magic Valley—your support is appreciated.

HOW FIRE TESTS ARE MADE

Underwriters' Laboratories tests, which are nationally recognized for their impartial findings, are made in accordance with the specifications of the American Society for Testing Materials. Walls 10 feet wide and 11 feet high are built in a special testing frame, for testing purposes. Among other severe tests, they are placed under extreme high heat temperatures up to 1925 degrees. At the end of 3 hours they are subjected to the fire and hose stream test. And the double load test—which increases the normal wall load or weight, 100%.

These tests are so severe that they are expected to be far beyond any possible duplication ever found in any building.

Despite the extremely severe treatment, Volco Pumice block walls withstood the tests with practically no spalling. More and amazing information regarding the Volco test and their superiority will be published later.

Buy VOLCO PUMICE BLOCK WITH CONFIDENCE

Regardless of rumors, salesmen's claims, or any prejudice—Volco Blocks are how produced (the same as produced the past 10 months) with 50% AIR SPACE CORES—are the highest standard of quality available. The Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., Chicago, have just concluded FIRE—THERMAL SHOCK—DOUBLE STRENGTH AFTER FIRE — TESTS. These tests definitely prove the quality of Volco Blocks. No idle claims—no guesswork. Negotiations were started last September to conduct these tests. Proper plant manufacturing and procedure is necessary together with a quality product. In January an Underwriters' Engineer and an Idaho State Rating Bureau official inspected the Volco plant in Jerome. The weighing of Pumice and cement and the proper ratio were noted. 290 Volco blocks were taken at random from the production line and marked for identification by the engineer. These specimens were steam cured, the same as all production, and then shipped to Chicago for the tests. Details as to how the tests are conducted are explained in left column.

VOLCO WHITE PUMICE BLOCKS

ARE NOT CINDER BLOCKS OR ORDINARY HEAVY CONCRETE BLOCKS. VOLCO white Pumice blocks are light weight insulating concrete units that use as an aggregate—Pumice rock, a volcanic light weight rock containing millions of tiny confined air cells. The air cells offer the insulating quality. The Volcanic rock has gone through intense heat and no combustable material is left. Pumice does not contain harmful alkali. It is the perfect aggregate for Concrete Building Block and Brick.

There are other Pumice Blocks but only VOLCO is approved by the underwriters

VOLCO meets all building code requirements as follows:

NATIONAL SPECIFICATIONS A. S. T. M. Spec. C90-39.
Federal Spec. SS-C-621 NATIONAL OR SECTIONAL U. S. DEPT. OF COMMERCE.
NAT'L BOARD OF FIRE UNDERWRITERS.
PACIFIC COAST BLDG. OFFICIALS.

ALL CITIES OF OVER 200,000 POPULATION AND PRACTICALLY IF NOT ALL SMALLER CITIES

NOTE:
The Building Code Requirements of thirty of the largest cities, population over 200,000, allow approved block in 8 inch, load bearing on exposed walls, to a maximum height of 35 to 60 ft. or 3 stories to 5 stories depending on the individual city codes.

Volco Blocks are now being tested by the University of Minnesota in regard to their Insulative Value. Not only the Pumice aggregate but complete block walls are being tested so that facts and figures can be shown to prove all claims. Definite facts will be available to combat the false rumors that all blocks sweat—YOLCO BLOCKS DO NOT SWEAT.
